INTRODUCTION

In English subject, the curriculum has the same role as it is in the other subjects. It is required as the guidelines to achieve the aims of English teaching and learning process. This curriculum is developed based on the Educational needs so that it can be changed. In Indonesian Educational system, the curriculum always be changed and developed to fullfill the needs and to solve the challenges in the Education.
Therefore, the educational system in English language teaching field has implemented some different curricula to improve the learners’ proficiency level and to cope with the challenges of the global world. Some recent curricula which has been issued by the Education National Standardization Board and implemented in Indonesian’s English Language Teaching were Competency based Curriculum (KBK), School based Curriculum (KTSP), and the most current one, 2013 Curriculum (K-13). There were two operational curricula made and practiced by each school in Indonesia, but actually it did not change the basis of Competence Based Curriculum substantially.

Interpreting of education’s goals, the curriculum should be relegated to the syllabus form. Syllabus referred to sub part of curriculum which concernsto the specification of the units that will be taught. Ismawati (2012:2) explained that syllabus is course planning in a subject or certain theme that include of competency standard, material, activity, indicator, scoring, time, and source. Parkes (2000:17) also stated that a syllabus will provide several pieces of useful information for students, in addition to the contractual and documentary material. Based on that definition, it can be concluded that the syllabus is an educational instrument or planning in teaching learning process.

In order to achieve the goals, Syllabus itself needs some sources. It is supported by Chanie (2013:6), he defined goals and objectives as well as learning experiences in the syllabus are made tangible with the teaching materials. Lamphear (2015) pointed that the materials can be authentic materials, for example from newspaper, magazine, recipe or textbook. One of the most useful tools an instructor possesses is the textbook. According to Harmer (2007:111) the use of English textbook has the achievements prominent and benefit for both teachers and students. Riazi (2003:52) supports that textbook is the next important factor in the second or foreign language classroom after the teacher. Hence, textbook is one of the indicators that can improve students’ skills.

Up to date, the textbook is getting popular and it becomes a primary source in teaching learning process, because it is assumed as the most effective source of materials. The textbook has many functions in a course, it will be better if the teachers use textbook as guideliness in their teaching, but they need to consider whether the particular textbook has fulfilled syllabus point or not, to assure the students has reached the standard knowledge based on particular curriculum. Therefore, it is important for the teacher to select and analyze the contents of textbook about syllabus point. The English teacher should be able to decide whether the contents of the textbook are suitable with the curriculum and syllabus used. The most important analysis is the syllabus, because the syllabus had supplied some materials of certain indicators. The teacher should ensure that the textbook had fulfilled syllabus point before she or he will use it. Therefore, textbook as one of many resources used by teachers in teaching the classroom should be evaluated in order to boost students’ progress in language learning because textbook is part of completeness or means of learning mission lead materials to appropriate with curriculum and syllabus (LKPP UNHAS:2015).

However, the teachers seldom analyze the textbook content based on syllabus appropriate, therefore the textbook is used without being analyzed. Meanwhile, based on the 2013 curriculum, the school provides syllabus, so the teachers should not design the syllabus by themselves. Automatically, the syllabus content should be in the textbook. Implementation of two curricula and curriculum revision in these school years has made textbook publisher produced some books, it would decrease quality of education if those textbooks do not fulfill the syllabus requirement.

Recently, there are many publishers of English textbooks in Indonesia that offer interesting contents, but the teacher should be careful to choose an English textbook which fulfill some criterias of the content standard of curriculum used. In this current research, the researcher took Pathway to English textbook to be analyzed because this textbook is one of the popular textbooks use in Indonesia. This book is also popular in Muara Bungo, many senior high school use this text book, one of them is SMAN 1 Bungo. This text book is used as the teacher’s handbook, it is a guideliness of the teaching and learning process in the classroom.

However, it is assumed that this text book does not full fill the syllabus needs completely. Based on the pre observation that has been conducted while doing the teaching practice, the researcher did not find the materials in the textbook. In order to find the further information,this research was conducted through a content analysis with syllabus requirement on this textbook which is “Pathway to English”, because textbook as a source and guide for teaching English classroom, English textbook must meet the objectives of the curriculum used. That’s why the researcher would like to analyze this textbook based on the syllabus requirement in 2013 curriculum used by SMAN 1 Bungo.

METHOD

This research was conducted using the document analysis method. It was analizing the content of the Pathway book that was used as one of English teaching and learning sources in one of Senior High School in Bungo, Jambi. This research was conducted in 2020.

Related to the title and the problem of this research, the researcher used the textbook analysis design of document analysis to gather the textual and written documents that are provided within the textbook that was researched. According to Shannon et al (2005:2), content analysis is a widely used qualitative research technique. In this qualitative research, the researcher intended to examine the condition of materials and exercises that are provided in Pathway to English textbook. With the help of document analysis in collecting the data for the textbook, the researcher used descriptive qualitative method in analyzing and interpreting the data that is described in Pathway to English.

To find out the needs of this research, syllabus points was used as the instrument. The researcher used syllabus points of basic competence, and main material in this research. The researcher focused on basic competence 3.1-4.10 because it can be measured by the points in some materials. In the other hand, the researcher eliminated basic competence 1.1-2.3 in this research because these basic competences were visible in learning process so it cannot be measured in the textbook.

Therefore the researcher only focused on basic competences 3.1-4.10 and 6 learning materials as presented in the first semester of 11\textsuperscript{th} grade in senior high school.
